Important Congregational Gathering Today!

We will be gathering after services today.

Welcome to Rev. Jim Holland, the Diocese representative for the Transition Team.

We will be discussing the new Minister job description, what ministry we want as well as what we can afford. We will also decide on the new name for this Shared Ministry.

Everyone is welcome to share lunch and participate in the discussion!

Please bring finger food to share!

Please Notice This

Please see the attached documents to this email for the congregational discussion on Sunday April 23:
A Draft Combined 2017 Budget. Two attachments - the "numbers" and the "notes".
Paper copies will be available on April 2

The Minister's job description, which is part of the Ministry Profile the Transition Team has been completing is attached to this email

Shared Ministry

The congregations of St. Martin of Tours Anglican Church and Gabriola United Church believe that we are better able to provide Christian outreach and ministry together than separately. As followers of Jesus Christ, we choose to worship and work together. We share the same Minister and the same church building. We worship together using a blended style of liturgy, from the United and Anglican traditions. We continue to discern ways in which our Shared Ministry will evolve. Everyone is welcome to worship with us.
